What a difference a decade makes.
Ten years ago this winter, Apple debuted its new “iPhone.” Previous portable phones had mostly been just that - pocket telephones with some basic (and cumbersome) text messaging capability.
Suddenly, anyone with an iPhone (or any of the other smartphones to follow) had an entire computer in their pocket. The world would never be the same.

How would your life be different today without smartphones?

Strange but true!

A CHIEF OF ALL CHIEFS

Jim Beckwourth was born a slave in Virginia around 1800. He became a legendary mountain man, fur trader, hunter, and explorer in the untamed Western U.S. during the 1820’s and 30’s. Beckwourth discovered a mountain pass near Lake Tahoe that still bears his name. He spent much of his adult life in the West living with Apaches, Sacs, and other Native Americans, who gave him the name Dark Sky. Beckwourth led the Crows in battle against the Blackfeet and was named “A Chief of All Chiefs” by the Crow Nation. Later, he established trading posts that became the towns of Pueblo, Colorado and Beckwourth, California. Beckwourth died in a Crow village in Montana in 1866.
