

*Tuesday, April 25, 2017
Drexel Hill Middle School
3001 State Road
Drexel Hill, PA 19026
6:00-8:00 p.m.*

Presenter: Karen Neifer, Professional Development Specialist

Sexuality and Children with Special Needs

As a parent or caregiver of any child or adolescent, the subject of sexuality can be challenging. If your child has a physical or cognitive disability, you may find yourself feeling totally unprepared to deal with the subject matter.

Please join us for a discussion of sexual development and issues related to sexuality and young people with disabilities.

- Recognize how sexuality is a normal aspect of growth and development, and become more comfortable communicating and creating positive messages around this topic for your children.
- Learn about ways to help protect your child from abuse.
- Gain tips and strategies for talking about sexuality and how to answer questions and respond to behaviors. .

To register for this session, contact Karen Neifer 610-938-9000 ext. 2139 or email kneifer@dciu.org